Mission Sunday:

The late Archbishop Helder Camera of Recife in Brazil described mission as refusing to be locked into problems of the little world in which we exist.

Mission is always looking outwards, reaching out beyond ourselves, our home, our community, our parish, our diocese, our nation.

Mission is opening oneself to others as brothers and sisters, discovering and encountering them, sharing their joys and sufferings. If to discover them and reach out to them, it is necessary to cross the seas and fly through the heavens, then mission is leaving for the ends of the earth.
